

HE MARRIED HIS NIECE

Said His Wife Stayed Out Night and Threw Things at Him.

Michael Wachtel, fifty-five years old, a wealthy retired cigar manufacturer, living at 247 East Fifty-fifth street, had his Wachtel is a sickly looking, slender built man, while his wife, who is also his niece, is a good-looking, golden haired blonde.

She is Wachtel's second wife. He married her on March 20, 1893, at the house of a rabbi living in Henry street four months after the death of his first wife. Both were represented by counsel.

Wachtel shed tears as he told his story to Justice Meade, and wound up his tale of married life by saying:

"I was a faithful husband."

Ever since his marriage, Wachtel said she has done about as she pleased, and paid no attention to his remonstrances. She never cooked a meal for him, nor did any housework, but went about to picnics and balls and stayed out one and two nights at a time without taking the trouble to explain her absence. He admitted that he was afraid of her saying: "She beats me and fires the first thing within her reach at me."

He then opened a package, which con-

"I was born in Austria, and emigrated to this country three years ago. This man, who is my uncle as well as husband, gave me a home, for which he

"After the death of his first wife he started to court me, and promised me fine clothes and jewelry if I would marry him. I was a poor girl, and the prospects he laid before me influenced me to marry him."

"Do you regret it now?" asked her lawyer.

"More than I can say," she responded.

"In place of the fine jewelry and nice clothes he made me do the servant's work. A wife was cheaper than paying a maid."

She then stated that Wachtel once said:

ferred her $1,500 if she would give him evidence that would enable him to secure a divorce. At this point Wachtel broke in and said: "Judge, I am afraid to live with her any longer."

"I have not the power to prevent a wife going to the home of her husband. You must bring your case in another court," said the Judge.

His Honor then said: "I cannot do anything in this case. Mrs. Wachtel is now discharged."

She thanked the Justice, through her lawyer and hurried out of court.

ferred her $1,500 if she would give him evidence that would enable him to secure a divorce. At this point Wachtel broke in and said: "Judge, I am afraid to live with her any longer."

"I have not the power to prevent a wife going to the home of her husband. You must bring your case in another court," said the Judge.

His Honor then said: "I cannot do anything in this case. Mrs. Wachtel is now discharged."

She thanked the Justice, through her lawyer and hurried out of court.

Milham's Calceaya, a tonic and invigorator introduced in 1889, is the original of the retail sale July 28 goes to "Evening World's Sick Babies' Fund." MILHAM, 183 Broadway.

Now having a great Clear-new desirable goods at y annually giving our unity, we are not com-

Please Note Carefully

Two Following Items:

To-Morrow our Semi-Annual Sale of all odd lots of China and Glassware and Fancy Goods, without thought of profit.

LOT 1-2,000 pieces odd Plates, Dishes, Glassware, Fancy China, Cups and Saucers, Bowls, worth many of them 100 times the price,

All at 5^c. each.

LOT 1-2,000 pieces odd Plates, Dishes, rated Plates, Bowls, Fancy Glassware,

Drugs-Drugs, world doc. to doc.,
All at 9^c each.

UNDERWEAR.

5,000 dozen Misses' best Two-Thread Cotton Hose, onyx, black and tans, sizes 4½ to 8;

cannot be bought elsewhere
at less than 25c., for this sale
Saturday, pair......12½
Not over four pairs to each customer.

100 dozen Misses' and Boys' Derby rib Hose, in black and tan, worth 19c. pair, all sizes to 9s, at, pair......10

600 dozen Men's Half Hose, Hermadorf dye, black and tan shades; manufacturers'

samples bought at low price at mills in Germany, quality varies from 25c. to 50c. pair, your choice, pair.....	12 1/2
1,000 dozen Ladies' Vests, at	.08
500 dozen Men's Suspenders	.25
500 dozen Men's White Silk 50c. Four-in-Hand Ties.....	.23